The executive committee calls upon Irish republicans in every State and Territory to send one delegate, with an alternate, from every Congressional District.

A government offi er stationed at Richmond, Va., writes that negro labor is at a discount in that port on of Virginia. The extensive sales of land in small portions to white immigrants, who are cultivating the land themselves, renders it necessary for colored laborers to go further South in order to seek employment. Over three hundred colored people have gone South by rail from Virginia in the · last month. Indications are that the number during the present month will be greatly in

-It is now announced that Mr. John Russell Young has actually left the New York Tribune office, and will shortly sail for Europe as an agent for Jay Cooke. The office of managing ar editor of the Tribune is abolished. Mr. Greeley is not only editor of the paper de jure but de facto, and in his absence Mr. Whitelaw Reid is to be obeyed and respected in accordance with general orders issued from the meeting room of the Tribune stockholders. There has also been quite a change among the small fry and other hangers on of the office, but they are of no importance to the outside public. Mr. Young, it is said, will, upon his return from Europe, press his law-suit against Dans to the very bitter end, as he will be able to show actual damages sustained by the Sun publications.

The New York Legislature has recently passed an act in relation to the compounding of physicians' prescriptions. By the terms of the law no apothecary is to permit any person in his employ to put up a prescription unless said person is a medical graduate, or has served an apprentizeship of two years in a drug store. Volations of the p ovisions of the act are to be deemed misdemeanors and runished by a fine of one hundred dollars, or imprisonment for six months in the county jail. If death ensues, the offence is to be deemed felony, and punished by a fine of not loss than one thousand dollars nor more than five thousand dollars, and imprisonment in the State prison for not less than two nor more than four years, or by both fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

-Speaking of the Alabams claims and our new Minister to England, a Washington telegram to the New York Times says : "Mr. Motley's sentiments on the Alabama question are known to be in accordance with the recent speech of Senator Sumner, and many indica-4 ions have been developed within the last two or three days which go to show that the President and the Secretary of State very nearly coix olds with the Massachusetts senator. The indications at present are that the settlement of this question will not be immediately attempted, unless the English Government should refuse to listen to the advice of the leading London papers and initiate negotiations. A foreign war is one of the last things which President Grant would desire, but, at the same time, the settlement of a question of the magnitude of the Alabama difficulty on orable to the United States as a nation, is satisfactory settlement.

THE DAILY NEWS. One of the fast blings he would adopt or sanotion. A firm, temperate policy will be pursued, and no undue haste at a solution of the question will be used while the present angry tone and feeling to England lasts. One thing is certain, that Minister Motley will not the first thing eudeavor to being about an understanding on the subject. His first effort will be to negotiate the Naturalization Treaty, the protocol to which was passed on by the Senate during the first session of the Fortyfirst Congress. Then, again, he will have to use all his diplomatic ability to effect the negotiation of a Consular Treaty, similar to the DATLY NEWS, six months 3 00 | treaties the United States has with almost every other country in Europe except Great Britain, and which, for several years past, she has steadily refused to make. The Alabama claims will, it is expected, come up incidentally in the discussion of these measures. If the question is settled before the end of 1870 is will be considered that good progress has been made by Mr. Motley."

CHARLESTON.

FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 21, 1869.

The Lish Church Bill.

On the 31st of this month the Irish Church disestablishment bill comes up for final action in the House of Commons. Mr. Gladstone is entire master of the situation, so far as the popular current is concerned. His majority in the Commons is on the increase, instead of growing smaller; and if an appeal were made to the people he would be sustained in the most triumphant manner. In the face of these facts, it will neither be wise nor politic for the Lords to put themselves in direct opposition to the popular current. If they do, it will sweep them away. They yielded to Catholic emancipation and the corn law agitation, and they will act in a like manner on the Irish Church bill. They may stand out for the best terms of capitulation, but capitulate they will in the end.

At the same time the Liberal leaders are awakening to the danger that the disestablishment of the Irish Church may not satisfy the Irish people. The pledge has already been given by the ministers that -Over seven hundred passengers left New, they will, at the proper time, introduce a York for Europe by the steamers of Saturday | bill arranging anew the land tenure in Ireland. No more is known of the manner in which this difficult question is to be dealt with than was known of the plan to be pursued in regard to the Church Establishment, before the reading of the disestablishing bill. The Cabinet will mature and perfect their proposition at their leisure, so that when it does come before Parliament it will be as a carefully considered and well balanced whole. In the meanwhile, the Irish landowners fear that something may be done to injure them, while the Irish peasantry confidently hope that they will have an opportunity of improving their present precarious condition.

In both measures-the Church bill and the Land bill-it is the evident intention of the government to show the country that they will do all that they can to pacify and content Ireland, so that, as their organs declare, they may be in a position to check at party are resolved to give the Irish all the privileges they may; but if any faith is to be reposed in the utterances of their leading men, they will meet with a firm front any agitation which has for its object either the repeal of the Union or the modification of the territorial relations between England and the Emerald Isle. It still, however, seems most likely that nothing short of independence will satisfy the Irish at home and abroad, and that whatever the English Liberals may do will be treated rather as a confession of weakness than as a proof of a general desire to do what is just and right.

The War in Paraguay.

The Paraguayan war still "drags its slow "length along." Since the battle of Villeta the allies have been busy in endeavoring to heal the wounds in their own organization, produce a concert of action, and prepare for an advance. In order to accomplish this, commanders have been changed all round; Caxias has been recalled to Brazil, and the son-in-law of Don Pedro II, Comte d'Eu, charged with the supreme command. Subordinates have also been shifted from one position to another, and in this manher a new face put upon military affairs at Asuncion and in that vicinity. The meaning of all this is a final attack upon Lopez, which, it is expected, will take place within the next ten days, if fresh desertions and other causes do not delay the allied column. This time the march will be into the in-erior, and without the support of gunboats. This will make the contest more equal, although the forces of the allies will far outnumber those of Lopes. After the defeat of the Paraguayan army at Vil leta, Lopez moved inland, and is now forti fied at a strong point upon the railroad from Asuncion to Villa Rica, not far from Asun oion-so near, indeed, that his raiding parties are sweeping off men, cattle and supplies from within the alied picket line. The force which Lopez has gathered from the remnants of his army and recruits amount to about five thousand men, with from sixteen to twenty pieces of cannon. The allied force is twenty-six thousand. Deducting from these the one-third which never can be found in an attack, we shall find that the remainder is scarcely a sufficient lorce to promise a speedy termination of the war in favor of the allies, unless they are so fortunate as to punish Lopez severely in the first encounter. If he can check the advance, fall back and check them again, while at the same time harrassing them by raids, forays and flank attacks, the contest may be protracted until the allies will be obliged to retrace their steps and be content to hold that pertion of Paraguay immediately bordering on the river. While this is the present condition of affairs in Paraguay, two commissioners from Lopez have arrived in this country. The precise object of their mission has not been made public.

We have good authority for stating that the differences between the South Carolina Railread Company and the City of Auguste, and Columbia and Augusta Railroad Comany other than terms satisfactory and hon- pany, are in train for a very early and Seles Beng
